*"Benjamin Hughes is recognized by clients and peers as one of the foremost arbitrators in Asia."
--Who's Who Legal: Arbitration (2017)*

Benjamin F. Hughes is an independent arbitrator and associate professor at Seoul National University Law School. He is an arbitrator and door tenant of Fountain Court Chambers in London and of The Arbitration Chambers in Singapore. Prior to launching his career as an independent arbitrator, Ben practiced international arbitration with Shearman & Sterling (in the US and Singapore), and was the founding co-chair of the international dispute resolution practice group at Shin & Kim, one of Korea's oldest and largest full-service law firms.

Ben left law firm practice in March 2013 to focus on his practice as an independent arbitrator. Since then, he has been appointed in over 80 arbitrations under the rules of the AAA/ICDR, ACICA, AIAC/KLRCA, CAA, CIETAC, DIS, HKIAC, ICC, JCAA, KCAB, LMAA, SCC, SIAC, UNCITRAL (both administered and ad-hoc) and VIAC. He has also acted as emergency arbitrator and as sole arbitrator in expedited and fast track proceedings, and is a panel arbitrator of numerous arbitral institutions.

Ben's experience as arbitrator spans a broad range of commercial disputes, including joint venture and shareholder disputes, intellectual property and licensing disputes, construction and infrastructure projects, energy and resources, shipping and shipbuilding, automobile and heavy machinery manufacturing, agency and distributorship agreements, sale of goods and general contractual disputes. He has heard cases governed by the CISG and the laws of Australia, Austria, BVI, Cayman Islands, China, England and Wales, Fiji, France, Germany, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mongolia, the Philippines, Saudi Arabia (including Sharia), Singapore, Switzerland, Taiwan, the United States (including New York, California and US territories) and Vietnam, as well as lex mercatoria. He has also handled complex conflict of law and jurisdictional issues, joinder and intervention applications, and disputes involving multiple contracts and applicable laws.

Chambers and Partners has recognized Ben as a "Most in Demand Arbitrator" in the Asia-Pacific Region:

Independent Seoul-based practitioner Benjamin Hughes is acclaimed by one source as "the leading international arbitrator in the Korean market," while another explicitly confirms his status as an arbitrator in high demand, noting that he is "someone who has really internalised the region's linguistic and cultural considerations," which gives him a "deep and significant understanding of Asian business parties." Experienced as a sole or co-arbitrator at all the most prominent regional arbitration centres, and notably active in sale and purchase, shareholder and energy sector disputes, he is especially recommended for cases with a South Korean aspect.

Ben is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, the Hong Kong Institute of Arbitrators, the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators and the Australian Centre for International Commercial Arbitration. He taught extensively in the field of international dispute resolution prior to joining the law faculty at SNU, including as visiting professor at the University of Hong Kong Faculty of Law and as adjunct professor at Korea University School of Law and the Korean Judicial Research and Training Institute.

Ben was educated in both the civil law and the common law traditions, having studied first at Seoul National University College of Law (MA, all coursework in Korean), and then at NYU School of Law (JD). While at NYU, he spent one semester at the University of Palermo Law School in Buenos Aires, Argentina (all coursework in Spanish). He also studied Chinese (Mandarin) in Beijing and East Asian history at Harvard University.
